

In My Daughter's Name

by BECKY KEY BOESEN

A daughter lost to violence - a mother's search for answers

The play In My Daughter's Name takes a very personal look at domestic violence. Amanda Thomas, the daughter referred to in the title, was 27 years old when she was murdered by her ex-boyfriend and the father of one of her children. The play bears witness to the circumstances and complications leading up to Amanda's death in 2009. Amanda's mother Jody meets a writer who wants to tell Amanda's story and together, the two women chronicle the cycle of this family's violence and love.

To make this production accessible to audiences across Nebraska, a staged reading of In My Daughter's Name has been adapted for touring purposes. The play is a remarkable vehicle for discussion of the events of the play and the reality of domestic violence in our communities.
